134) : JOSÉ INGENIEROS. — In the feudal society, human life was considered as a state of transitory expiation, and the individual will was subordinated to the power of the state. In the new society which is building itself, the rights of the individual are asserting themselves every day with a new vigor. Sucesos de la Universidad de Córdoba.

NOTES AND NEWS

DR. DAVID MITCHELL, of the Bureau of Educational Experiments, New York City, has rendered a service to clinical psychologists and students of mental testing through his revised classified bibliography of psychological tests. In addition to being an exhaustive catalogue of all worthy tests in the field, the bibliography furnishes further valuable aid by classifying titles under various headings, so that one who wishes to work in a special field may readily find the necessary references. The first three parts of the bibliography include discussions of general problems, the development of procedures, and the treatment of results. Another part lists the tests which may be used as group tests, and still another part arranges the tests according to name and names of the authors reporting on the tests. Dr. Mitchell gives promise of keeping this bibliography up to date by stating that further additions will be made when the references are available.

DR. WALTER B. SWIFT, of Boston, has been appointed Consultation Expert for Speech Defects to the Division of Medical Inspection of the Public Schools of Cleveland, Ohio. He is engaged in installing methods in speech correction by directing some 15 teachers whom he trained last summer to conduct speech correction classes.
